Kids with a disability will hit a high note this Government House Open Day

Multicap's new El Coro choir for children with a disability will hit a high note at their first performance at Government House's Queensland Day Open Day this Sunday, 6 June.

The El Coro choir, featuring children with a disability aged 10-18 years, will join their fellow experienced adult counterparts from the Multicap Southside Singers for performances to inspire one and all.

Multicap Chief Executive Officer, Joanne Jessop, said it is wonderful to have this opportunity to perform at the Government House Queensland Day Open Day.

"Thanks must go to our Patron, the Governor of Queensland, Her Excellency Ms Penelope Wensley AO, for providing this fabulous opportunity for our children and adult choirs to showcase their talents," Ms Jessop said.

"Thanks must also go to the Zig Zag Foundation, who contributed 80% of the costs for the first year of this important El Coro children's choir," she said.

Don't miss the chance to walk through Government House and explore the wonderful gardens and surrounds at their Queensland Day Open Day. A Community Fair of Queensland community and volunteer organisations will provide a fantastic festival atmosphere, with displays and activities to enjoy and refreshments available for purchase.
