Rockhampton's night of nights for people with disability

Rockhampton couple Matthew and Mynissa Fox are counting down the days to the biggest night on their 2017 social calendar.

The couple will join more than 100 people with disability to dance the night away at the 7th annual Avegates Rockhampton Gala Ball.

Avegates, a Multicap innovation, provides social opportunities for people with disability.

Mynissa and Matthew, who have attended all seven gala balls, have been shopping with their mums to buy a new dress and suit for the night.

'It is such a fun night,' Mynissa said. 'We like to get dressed up and we also love the photo booth and being able to take lots of photos with our friends.'

Matthew said a highlight of the evening was being chauffeur driven to the ball in a classic car, thanks to Rockhampton Vintage Car Club.

Avegates Service Leader Carole Savage said the gala ball was the event of the year on the Avegates calendar.

'Avegates is all about giving people with disability unforgettable social experiences and the gala ball definitely ticks that box,' Carole said.

'The ball is such a great night for our customers to dress up and let their hair down.'
